

SPEAKER'S BIO

JASON P. BAJOR

COMMISSIONER
FEDERAL MEDIATION AND CONCILIATION SERVICE

Jason has acquired over fifteen years of public sector labor-relations experience prior to his service with FMCS. During that time Jason worked in varying levels of management responsibilities to include the positions of director of human resources, assistant city manager, city manager, and then as a professional consultant to units of local government.

Before his work in public-sector labor relations, Jason served in the U.S. Army, achieving the rank of noncommissioned officer (Sgt, E-5); graduating from the U.S. Army infantry, airborne, and ranger schools; and receiving combat-service decorations.

Jason holds a masters of public administration from the University of Illinois, Springfield, a bachelor of arts, political science, from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, in addition to professional certifications in human resource management.